MEDIA RELEASE

St Paul's students Leap into Clean Up Australia Day.

For 25 February 2008

On Friday, February 29, and in a first for the school, students in Years 5 – 10, as well as their teachers will walk delegated areas surrounding St Paul's to pick up rubbish.

Inspired by Al Gore, student leaders from St Paul's College are responding to the call for responsible global citizenship, and have signed up the school to participate in their first "Clean Up Australia Day".

Principal of St Paul's College, Mr Daniel Lawler said that the school's leadership was very supportive of this initiative. "The Student Representative Council for 2008 was keen to ensure that the school contributes in a meaningful way to the quality of the local environment, and we were proud to support them. This is active learning at its best."

"The SRC is also very interested in participating in the Clean Up Your Climate campaign that week as well," said Mr Adam Slater, Middle School SRC Co-ordinator. "Both campaigns will be integrated into the curriculum through Science and Studies of Society and Environment."

In 2007, St Paul's won two grants to fund delivery of sustainability projects relating to investigating water quality and power consumption.
